Through the carelessness of a Chinese woman, a Chinese store on King street near Robello lane narrowly escaped being consumed by fire last stitution and by-laws were drafted by Saturday night. The woman had been the committee on the lines of the old filling a lamp and spilled a quantity of Honolulu fire volunteer companies and kerosene on the floor. To save the trouble of wiping it up she put a match to the fluid, which blazed up merrily.

Officer Akana Espinda, who happer ed to pass the store at the critical moment, jumped in and extinguished the flames with some difficulty. Two cans full of kerosene stood within a few feet of the blaze, adding materially to the imminent danger of a wholes conflagration.

RULES AND JUDGMENT.

As an editor Horace Greeley had beome weary of the constant repetitions of the word "the" in the opening sec-tences. One issue of his paper in particular exasperated him. Almost exery item had its opening paragraph be-gin with "the". This lack of judgment on the part of his writers in the choice of words received attention. Greeley wrote a note. This notice he requested to be posted in the editorial room. and caused copies of it to be sent to correspondents. The order read: "Up der no circumstances must the word the be used in the opening or subsequent paragraphs of a news article. In sentences within a paragraph it will be tolerated with moderation. If you cannot write a paragraph without 'the' to open it, omit." One day, shortly after the issuance of his new rule, Greeley entered the editorial room in a fury. How is it that we have nothing in today's paper regarding Holland's attstude toward the policy of the north?" he asked of his editor who had charges of the foreign news. This editor was aware that he had omitted an important news item which at the time be considered as unimportant. But he was resourceful. "Your rules and or ders are positive, Mr. Greeley, are they not?" asked the editor. "Certain ly," shouted the famous scribbler. Then tell me how I could have used The Hague' for the date line in the Holland dispatch without violating your positive order?" Mr. Greeley was beaten, but he muttered, "If you fellows could use judgment there would be no need for rules."-Detroit
